Setup fees are used to authorise the provision of server hardware and software, including any licences necessary for the operation of the server. We do not charge setup fees for shared hosting accounts or plans, but some additional services you can purchase may have setup fees associated with them.

2. SSL Certificates

Any fees incurred with the provisioning and purchase of SSL Certificates, including the setup fees and the cost of the certificate. You shall own all SSL certificates. If the certificate has already been installed, we will export the certificate for you and provide the certificate along with the password used to create the export file.

Any fees incurred by us or charged by us for the registration, renewal, or transfer of domain names. You shall retain ownership of the domain name if it has been paid for and funds have cleared. If the domain has not been paid for or funds have not cleared, we may elect to retain the domain name for our own use at our sole discretion.

4. Additional Software

Due to the licence fees we must pay to the software providers on your behalf, we cannot offer refunds for any specific software purchased with your web hosting plan. 5. Outstanding Balances

If you cancel your account, or request a refund, this does not release you from financial responsibility in accordance with our Terms of Service. If you have an outstanding balance, you will continue to be responsible for that payment. You agree that we may, at our sole discretion, offset any refund amount against any outstanding balance due.

6. How Refund Payments are Made

Any refund amount due to you will be paid in the same manner as your original payment was made and will be paid in UK Pounds Sterling (GBP). For instance, refund payments by cheque will be paid by cheque, and credit-card payments will be refunded to the same card used to pay for the original account. If the credit card has expired or is unavailable at the date the refund is processed, the refund can only be paid by a UK Pound Sterling Cheque which will be sent to the address you used to sign-up to the account. We are not responsible for any charges you may incur in processing any cheque we send or any delays caused by the postal service. Cheques will be sent the next working day at the latest if you are eligible for a refund.

Refund payments will not necessarily be available to you immediately. We will inform you when the refund has been applied (or the cheque has been sent to you) by email, but some payment processors do not make the funds available to you immediately and we have no control over how these companies work. We ask that you wait at least 48 hours before contacting us about your refund.

7. Account Termination and when we delete your data

If you terminate your account, or request a full or partial refund in accordance with the shared hosting refund policy, your information and account will be deleted as soon as the refund has been applied or the 14-day refund period has expired, whichever is sooner. In the case of refund payments by cheque before the 14-day refund period has expired, the account termination date will be the date on which the cheque is sent by post. It is your responsibility to ensure that you have a backup of your site and data before your account is terminated or closed, or your refund is requested.

8. How long we keep your Personal Information for

If you request a refund in accordance with our shared hosting refund policy, we will retain all your personal details for a minimum period of 6 years after your account has been closed, in accordance with standard Data Control practices and statutory requirements for contract information.

9. Your Eligibility for future Accounts

If you request a refund in accordance with our shared hosting refund policy, you will not be eligible to use any further services from us, or any associated company, for a minimum period of 6 years from the date of termination.
